PROGRESS ON SIC GOAL FOR 2023-2024

During the 2023-2024 school year, Rudolph Gordon School's School Improvement Council met monthly. School Improvement Council meetings are used to seek feedback from our community as well as a means to provide a comprehensive understanding of school programs and initiatives. As a result of this feedback, our school community increased their understanding of our school's social and emotional learning program, our district's college and career readiness initiative (G+), school safety and supervision, instruction and assessment programs, as well as our multi-tiered system of supports process, OnTrack.

The School Improvement Council continues to be a key component to our school's success. A previously supported SIC project, Book Buddies, in which the community donates books to expand our students' love of literacy and access to texts, continues to thrive. This year's project honors a kindergarten student who passed away in 2023 following a battle with cancer. To honor the student's memory, as well as to bring color and joy to our elementary school, the School Improvement Council has worked collaboratively with the community to fundraise a mural project.

Rudolph Gordon School faculty, staff, and students, continue to be grateful for its partnership with our School Improvement Council and its impact on our school at-large. Together, we are able to assess school needs and brainstorm strategies and solutions to achieve success. We look forward to a continued strong partnership to ensure our students receive the best educational experiences possible.
