TEACHER OF THE YEAR

NICOLE WILBORN

My philosophy of teaching centers around one word: relationships. Every day, I find some way to connect with my students, whether it be through our commonalities or even my love of laughter. This connection fosters an environment of mutual respect. I know that this type of respect opens the door so that they can receive. As I build relationships with my students, it gives me insight on how to instruct them. When my students realize that I am invested in them as a person, they feel valued.
