JAMES SIMONS MONTESSORI SCHOOL

James Simons Montessori School enjoys a rich past of educating Charleston's children. James Simons was one of the first schools in Charleston to desegregate in the 1960's. Eleven years ago Maria Montessori's method was introduced to James Simons students and today we educate 3-year-olds through eighth graders.

LOWER EL

Students begin following their interests, exploring the ideas of research, creativity and personal choices how they reflect their understanding and knowledge of a topic. Math concepts are introduced with manipulatives and develop to abstraction.

UPPER EL

Nine to twelve year olds continue the journey into abstraction into ever more complex fields of study. Observation of the environments will offer children an opportunity to develop skills across content areas. The detailed study of Fundamentals Needs of Man goes deeper into comparison of time periods, cultures, and the motivation behind decisions and actions taken in the history of mankind.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

Middle School curriculum involves many small group activities that encourage and educate a sense of community, cooperation and active problem solving. Active engagement and readily available feedback produce independent, yet engaged, young citizens who maintain senses of both wonder and responsibility.

THE MONTESSORI METHOD

The Montessori method is an educational approach developed by Italian physician, Maria Montessori. It has been popular all over the world for over 100 years.

The approach focuses on independence, hands-on learning and a thoughtfully prepared environment that allows the child to grow in all the main developmental areas.

The Seven Tenets of Montessori

1. Play is Work
2. Prepared Environment
3. Observation
4. Freedom within Limits
5. Respect
6. Hands On Learning
7. Independence

PRIMARY

The Primary program encourages young children to fine-tune their senses, improve muscular coordination, develop language and math skills, and respect the global human family.
