Message From the Principal

Stiles Point Elementary School is an amazing elementary school nestled on beautiful James Island in Charleston, SC. Our goal each and every year is to provide a high quality education for each of our students preparing them for the real world. With nearly 700 students, we are constantly developing innovative ways to reach the individual learning needs of a diverse population of learners. Teachers daily incorporate hands-on learning, collaboration, problem solving, and differentiated learning opportunities. In September, we hosted our first ever Boosterthon Fun Run. Our generous community helped us raise enough money to install two Action Based Learning labs. This was far beyond anything we could have ever imagined. Our two labs allow students to move while learning on state-of-the-art equipment. Our school is even going to be a model school and showcased this summer as people from all over the country attend a seminar on Action Based Learning and the benefits for students and education. As the faculty engages in innovative professional development focused on Action Based Learning, we anticipate a significant increase in student achievement. As community members, we invite each of you to share your individual interests, passions, and areas of expertise to help us as we endeavor to provide a world class education for our students. Thank you for your ongoing support of Stiles Point Elementary School!
