Report of Principal and School Improvement Council

Our motto for the 2016-2017 school year continues to be "Building a Strong Foundation." Students, parents and staff realize the importance of building a strong foundation. In order to do this, we all work together to meet the needs of all students.

The South Carolina Curriculum Standards are the basis for instruction and assessment at Limestone-Central Elementary School. To strengthen the reading and writing foundation for students in grades K-5, we have had a deep focus on use of Small Group instruction based around the Jan Richardson text, Next Steps Forward in Guided Reading. We also have focused on implementation of small group instruction in mathematics for students in grades K-5, while using Saxon math. This has helped strengthen the academic foundation for students as well.

We also have a strong focus on the Profile of the SC Graduate and Character education as important building blocks in the foundation of our students. We teach and recognize a trait each month, and students participate in character celebrations at the end of each quarter. In addition, students participated in service projects for the American Heart Association, Relay for Life, the Salvation Army, and Harbor of Hope.

Mr. Brandon Coggins was our Distinguished Teacher of Reading and Ms. Lindsey Crenshaw was named Teacher of the Year for Limestone-Central. Also this year, Mrs. Vickie Williams earned the Support Staff of the Year for the School and District. We are proud of the hard work and dedication of these and all of our teachers and staff.

We are also proud of our partnership with parents and family members through the PTO. They have provided funding for classroom instructional needs, field trips, behavior incentives, and numerous additional items requested by teachers and students. This partnership is another brick in the strong foundation for our students at Limestone-Central.
