SIC Annual Goals

The goal for the 2013-2014 School Improvement Council was built upon the goal from last year which was to promote student awareness of post secondary opportunities. The goal for this year was to focus on informing students and parents about post-secondary options outside of a four-year college. With many careers available which only require a certificate or a 2 year degree from a Technical College/Community College, it is vital for parents and students to learn more about these career options.

The members of the SIC at Landrum High School planned a career showcase which focused on this goal. This event consisted of two parts; a presentation in the auditorium and then an interactive event in the gym.

- Mr. Brian Nash, Spartanburg Chamber of Commerce spoke to students and parents focusing on the job market in our area and the demand for more technical workers.
- Mr. Luke Black, Spartanburg Community College, presented information on the Technical Scholars Program and the many technical careers available at their college which require 2 years or less.
- Mr. Scott Simpson, Swofford Career Center, presented information on all the various programs available at the career center and opportunities in each field.

- All instructors from Swofford Career Center and business owners had display tables with career information available for students and parents.
- Drawings were held for students to win door prizes from local participating businesses.
